Profile

Educated in Prishtinë, Istanbul, Lund and Copenhagen, Rron Bexheti is a multidisciplinary architect based in Malmö who is inspired from our built environment, its unique cultural identity, unpredictability, ambiguity, urban fabric and the ever-evolving territorial landscapes. His multidisciplinary practice engages in architecture, urban design, film documentary, commissions, competitions and exhibition design. His approach focuses on the dynamics of ever-changing socio-spatial challenges of our built environment and the exploration of contemporary and historical interconnections between architecture, art, urban design and the city. Rron Bexheti holds a master's degree from Lund University Advanced Architectural design and Spatial Experiments studio. His previous work experiences extend from leading architectural offices such as Bjarke Ingels Group, Henning Larsen, guest lecturer for competitions at Lund University, workshop and course lead at Polis University. Currently engaged in commissions, teaching and workshop leading activities.
